STORM SWEEPS OVER COUNTY

Doing Much Damage to the Grain Crops

LOWLANDS ARE FLOODED

Storm Sewers of City are Overtaxed.

Wind Reaches a Velocity of Forty Miles—Electrical Storm the Most Severe of the Summer.

Another very heavy rain, wind and electrical storm broke over the city shortly before midnight last night, and did a large amount of damage. The wind reached a velocity of about forty miles an hour, blowing down many trees and small buildings on the outskirts.

During the storm, the rainfall amounting to 1.28 inches and the storm sewers were unable to handle it causing many floods. The most damage occurred in the west and both Center and Church streets being flooded over the sidewalks. Many cellars filled up and considerable damage was done. All over the city, the streets were flooded but in most cases little damage resulted.

The electrical storm was the most severe that has visited this city for several years.

Throughout the county, the storm was fully as severe as in the city, and even more damage was done. The high winds leveled many acres of oats, hay and wheat that remained uncut. Much damage was sustained by farmers who had the grain in shocks. The corn was damaged by being leveled in many places.

During the present month, almost nine inches of rainfall have been recorded, the amount being more than three times the ordinary amount. All of the streams of the county are out of their banks and in the along the rivers and creeks floods are reported and growing crops have been ruined or badly damaged. Farmers have been prevented from harvesting their crops by the continued wet weather.

The instances where lightning struck buildings or any value have been few and it is thought that very little damage resulted from that source.

During the hardest of the storm, lightning struck the residence of John J. Grigsby, of Garfield Place, tearing a hole in the roof and damaging the plastering. The members of the family were in bed and fortunately escaped injury.

Mrs. Susannah Mack Deisch, wife of Charles Deisch, and one of Marion county's oldest and best known residents, died at her home at No. 238 South High street, at 7:30 o'clock, Thursday evening. Death resulted after a long illness with a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Deisch was the eldest daughter of Peter and Mary Gable, of Alleghany county, Pennsylvania. She was born in Pleasant township, this county, where she resided until about twenty years ago, when she moved to this city. She was 75 years of age, and during her long life, the deceased had never spent a year outside of Marion county.

COMPLEXION SECRETS

Only One Way to Secure a Clear Skin.

In most instances a bad complexion is due to neglect of the little things in life that are essential to natural beauty. All manner of suggestions have been offered by skin specialists, but all agree that the only sure way to secure a clear, healthy complexion is to conform closely as possible to the laws of nature. To preserve your freshness and beauty, you should live simply, take plenty of outdoor exercise, drink quantities of water and be careful of your diet. Remember, too, that beauty is a good deal more than skin deep. It is blood deep, and depends also upon your liver, your kidneys and the activity of your bowels. For nearly two years now, they have been telling the ladies of the beneficial effects that Laxakola Tonic Tablets have on the skin. The principal ingredients in them are cascara and dandelion and every doctor knows that these remedies start the liver going, drive out impurities, encourage the action of the bowels and help clear up the complexion.

Flocken's Drug Store will gladly pay your 25 cents back if these little tablets fail to thoroughly benefit you.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL

Samuel Douglas Dies at Midnight

GALION RAILROAD MAN

Passes Away without Gaining Consciousness

For Forty-Four Years Had Been in the Employ of the Erie Road—Funeral Saturday.

The death of Samuel Douglass, one of the most popular and best known engineers of the Erie railroad occurred at the Sawyer Sanatorium at 12 o'clock last night as a result of fatal injuries sustained at the roundhouse at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

Douglass never fully regained consciousness. His right arm was so badly torn as to necessitate amputation at the shoulder. His head was horribly cut and bruised, while the flesh on his left arm was torn and crushed. The sanatorium physicians think that death was caused wholly by external injuries, as no symptoms of internal injuries were disclosed. The loss of blood was great, and this, together with the shock proved fatal.

For 44 years Mr. Douglass had been employed on the Erie road. He entered the service as fireman in the year 1863. Two years later he was promoted to the post of engineer. He was never in a wreck and during his long service is said to have never been off duty a day on account of an injury.

Before leaving the engine cab to oil the machine he was always particularly careful to close the throttle, and then to insure safety would set the reverse lever in the safety notch. It is supposed that he was in the act of oiling the eccentrics when the hostler opened the throttle that hurled him to his death.

The engineer's home is in Galion. However, with his wife he had been visiting at his son's home, Charles Douglass of Girard avenue. He is widely known in Galion and his sad demise will bring sorrow to scores of friends.

The deceased was aged 62 years. He was the father of two children, Charles, of this city, and William G. Douglass of Winchester, Kentucky. He was an active member of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers. At the beginning of next year he would have been placed on the pension list of the Erie company, and he had remarked a few days ago to a fellow railroader that upon the day when he received his first pension money that would be the time when he would tender his resignation to the company.

The body was removed from the sanatorium early Friday morning and placed in the private morgue of Charles F. Hess, then shipped to Galion on No. 12 at 8:50 o'clock. Funeral services will be conducted from the home in that city Saturday afternoon. A number of railroaders from this city will attend the funeral.

Police Court

George Gardner, a plain drunk, was arrested by Officer Cusick at 1:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was found lying along the Erie tracks between State and Main streets in a helplessly drunken condition. In his hearing in mayor's court this morning the mayor gave him just one hour to shake the dust of Marion from his pedal extremities.

Thomas Navin swore out a warrant in mayor's court last evening against Finley Stevens, charging him with leaving a barn which he had rented of him on Silver street in an unsanitary condition. The barn was in such a condition that the health of the people living in the neighborhood was greatly endangered.

Stevens was taken before the mayor last night and entered the plea of guilty. The mayor fined him $10 with promise to remit fine in case that the nuisance was instantly abated.
